

Case study #1 – Police division, major city , USA

Facing threats, this major city Police Department commissioned ACE to harden the windows of their head quarters after undertaking an exhaustive exploration of alternatives. This evaluation included almost 20 window tint companies offering “bullet resistance” and suppliers of conventional bullet proof glass.

Using ACE’s Polymatrix ballistic panel technology the project was completed on time and on budget to the complete satisfaction of the client. References are available to other law enforcement departments and agencies.
